I THINK I THINK, THEREFORE I AM "I THINK" Fred Dretske Valid arguments "even those with true premises" don't take you very far if you don't know whether the premises are true. The fact that I'm in Heidelberg doesn't give me a reason to believe I'm in Germany unless I know (or at least have reason to believe) I'm in Heidelberg.

I Think, Therefore I am Free J. K. Swindler 1. Re-framing the Issue. Consider two broad types of actions exemplified by the following: (1) I raise my arm and (2) I tell you a lie. In each type of case, I routinely claim to have made a free choice. But there are both phenomenological and logical differences between the two.

"I am not what I think I am. I am not what you think I am. I am what I think you think I am." - Charles Horton Cooley I'm interested in how, as social creatures, we see and present ourselves to others. My recent work explores image and identity, how they form, and how we tailor them to meet social standards and expectations.
